Twister death toll reaches 11

Icy cold sweeping nation

McCOMB, Miss. (AP) — A series of deadly tornadoes that swooped down out of a fastmoving storm in Dixie have left at least 11 persons known dead, some 200 injured and patches of destruction in four states.

A 12th person was reported missing, and officials estimated damage in the millions.

The wonder of it was that more were not killed by the swirling winds which struck Friday.

For instance, a twister smashed into an elementary school here while 300 pupils crouched in the hallways, but the most serious injury was a broken leg.

Another tornado ripped the roof from a school gym in Opelousas, La., while 600 youngsters covered on the floor. The only injuries were a few bruises.

"We may have seen a miracle that more people weren't killed," said Mississippi Gov. Bill Waller as he inspected damage here and moved to have McComb declared a disaster area.

McComb, a southwest Mississippi city of 39,900, was hardest hit of a dozen towns that suffered tornado damage. It had four dead and 115 injured. Mayor John Thompson said 300 homes were ruined, leaving 750 in emergency shelter.

Three more were killed in the nearby town of Ruth, and two died on U.S. 90 near Pascagoula when a tractor-trailer was whipped sideways and two cars smashed into it.

At Lake Charles, 20-year-old Ronnie Benoit of Jennings died in a hospital early today of injuries received when a twister hit Mermentau.

A crewman was missing and presumed drowned when a tugboat capsized on Lake Pontchartrain near New Orleans.

At Ragland, Ala., a man died when a twister ripped up a service station shortly after another tornado had smashed some 100 houses, 75 mobile homes and 25 stores in nearby Pell City.

Alabama Civil Defense Director C.J. Sullivan estimated that 50 persons were injured at Pell City and 12 at Ragland. He also said a twister was reported at Pelham south of Birmingham. High winds were reported at Lanett.

Near Fort Walton Beach, Fla., about 20 mobile homes were heavily damaged by another tornado, but no serious injuries were reported.

National Guardsmen patrolled in McComb and Pell City today to prevent looting.

The tornadoes were spawned by a squall line which developed near the Louisiana-Texas border Friday morning and then moved rapidly eastward over Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and the Florida Panhandle.

The twisters were only part of a sprawling storm system that also triggered damaging winds and torrential rains in a sweep from the middle Mississippi Valley through the eastern Great Lakes.

To the west, a blizzard pounded the northern Plains and all but isolated sections of eastern and central Nebraska and northwest Iowa.

Temperatures that hit the 50s and 60s over the Midwest on Friday were expected to plunge to zero or below there by Sunday morning.

Wind gusts of 50 to 60 miles per hour shook numerous areas from the Plains to the lower Great Lakes. Scattered damage and power outages were reported from northeastern Illinois to western Pennsylvania.

A downpour of rain accompanied winds in excess of 50 m.p.h. that hit the Chicago area Friday night, cutting power to more than 2,000 homes and damaging 33 light aircraft at Midway Airport. Eight planes were flipped over and one was blown into a neighboring street.

Sweeping eastward, the winds raked southern Lower Michigan after midnight and caused heavy damage in the southwestern part of the state. In one of several incidents in which mobile homes were turned over, a child was injured in Isabella County.

Numerous trees and utility lines were felled and there were extensive power outages as the storm passed through Michigan. Nine-tenths of the power was out following winds of 61 m.p.h. at Houghton Lake.

Still later, winds up to 52 m.p.h. howled off Lake Erie into northwestern Pennsylvania, toppling trees and cutting electrical service in and around Erie.

In the Plains and Upper Midwest, winds of 60 m.p.h. accompanied heavy snow and skidding temperatures. Gusts up to 80 m.p.h. rocked the northwest Iowa town of Sioux Center late Friday. Sustained winds of 30 to 40 m.p.h. were common through the night in sections of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

O'Neill halts Demo steamroller

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today rejected an 11th-hour appeal from Democrats trying to rush six partisan pieces of legislation into law before Monday.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill refused to grant a stay of execution or hear an appeal from a 10th District Court of Appeals ruling that Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, cannot constitutionally sign bills while Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, a Republican, is present.

O'Neill, however, said another judge could grant the stay sought by Atty. Gen. William J. Brown but that he has no plans to call the court into session over the weekend.

Democrats want to go around Lt. Gov. Brown and get the six bills signed into law before Gov. John J. Gilligan leaves office.

Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes will take office at that time.

Majority Democrats in both houses completed legislative action on the measures—biggest of which gives Democrats a better break on congressional district boundary lines—during a beleaguered day Friday.

Passage of the last bill came only about an hour after the 10th District Court of Appeals, with three Republican judges sitting, permanently enjoined Ocasek from using a newly-adopted Senate rule that would let him sign bills in place of the lieutenant governor.

Despite the grueling day of marathon floor sessions that completed action on the bills, the stalemate reached near comic proportions late Friday night.

Brown entrenched himself in the Statehouse and vowed not to leave until his own term expires—also on Monday—and served formal notice to Democrats he does not intend to be "absent." The Ohio Constitution permits the president pro tem (majority leader) to sign bills in the absence of the lieutenant governor.

The veteran state official then left the chamber and retired to his downstairs office for the night, explaining "I've got a couch down there, and I'll stay here until my term expires if I have to."

Bills readied for legislative signatures, besides the redistricting bill, extend unemployment compensation benefits from 26 to 39 weeks and qualify workers idled by strikes elsewhere for benefits, transfer income tax collections from the governor's administration to the treasurer's office, shift consumer protection from the Commerce Department to the office of Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, authorize door-to-door voter registration, and restrict GOP Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's authority to reject Democratic nominees for county boards of elections.

Ocasek, after lengthy conferences with Atty. Gen. William J. Brown and others, said Democrats plan to file an appeal this morning in the hope of invalidating or at least staying the injunction from the appeals court. If it is not granted, he said, "everything still will be up in the air."

Appointment to be confirmed Jan. 22

Fisher to fill Council vacancy

Washington C.H. City Council chairman Ralph Cook announced today that Edward Fisher, 149 Carolyn Road, has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Hugh S. (Bud) Patton on the city's legislative body.

Fisher, 43, a welding supervisor and 25-year employee of the Armco Steel Corp. Metal Products Division in Washington C.H., was appointed to the City Council position Friday. The appointment will be confirmed at City Council's next regular meeting on Jan. 22, according to Cook.

HE WILL complete Patton's term as a city legislator. The term will expire in 1978.

Patton, 133 River Road, who was first elected to City Council in 1969, submitted his resignation at the regular Dec. 11 meeting. The 39-year-old Patton, who was one of the most influential Council members during his five-year tenure as he served on the finance and personnel committees, cited pressing business obligations as the reason for resigning.

He is co-owner of the Sunshine Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. and the Fayette Supply Co. and was successful in a bid for his second four-year term during the 1973 general election.

Fisher is a native of Middletown, where he graduated from high school and business college. He and his family moved to Washington C.H. in 1961 from Middletown.

He is presently serving a six-year term and as chairman of the Washington C.H. City Planning Commission, is a member of the Paul H. Hughey American Legion, Post 25, has served as chairman of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce's Christmas parade committee for the past two years, and is a member of St. Colman's Catholic Church, where he serves as lector and president of the parish council.

A VETERAN of the Korean conflict having served three years with the U.S. Coast Guard, Fisher is a past president and a former state director with the Washington C.H. Jaycees, served as president of the Camp Fire Girls executive council for three years, is a past president of the Eastside Parent-Teacher Organization, served as a Junior Achievement advisor for four years and has been active in a number of other civic affairs including serving as the Washington C.H. School District's representative on the alternatives for educational design committee at Ohio State University.

He and his wife, Joan, have three children, Kathy, a freshman at Otterbein College, and Mary and Gary, both students at Washington Senior High School.

Fred Harris opens presidential bid

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Former Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma announced his candidacy today for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination, calling for an attack on forces preventing "full employment and fair taxes."

Harris, 44, told a news conference he would run "a people's campaign — both in strategy and in beliefs."

Harris, who calls himself a "new populist," stressed economic problems as the central theme of his campaign.

"The basic question in 1976 is whether our government will look after the interests of the average family or continue to protect the super rich and the giant corporations," he said.

"Both the economy and the politics of our country are in deep trouble. Too few people have all the money and power, and most people have little or none."

He said 1976 offers an opportunity to give all Americans "a fair chance and a fair share."

"What stands in the way is privilege. Privilege is the issue. It prevents full employment and fair taxes. It drives up prices and corrupts democracy."

"We must lower taxes for most Americans and raise them for the Nelson Rockefellers and J. Paul Gettys. We must stop the Exxons and the Safeways from using their monopoly power to squeeze out competitors and then overcharge consumers."

"The government must stop emptying the pockets of those who have to work for a living in order to subsidize the Lockheeds and the Penn Centrals."

Harris has visited New Hampshire six times since August, laying the groundwork for his campaign.

He has met with students and with other voters in small groups, seeking volunteer workers.

Harris is the third person to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination.

COUNTY'S FIRST 1975 CITIZEN — Mrs. David Shaeffer, of 1003 Briar Ave., had been studying her new parents' book (foreground) Friday when the Record-Herald photographer stopped in to get a picture of the county's first 1975 baby, 10-day-old Bradley David Shaeffer.

First 1975 baby is now official

By SANDY FOSSON
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Bradley David Shaeffer slept soundly in his mother's arms oblivious that he had just been officially named the first baby born to Fayette County parents in 1975.

In fact he slept during the entire interview with his mother despite repeat flashes from the camera as if he knew there would be plenty of time ahead to view his new world.

THE SON of Mr. and Mrs. David Shaeffer, 1003 Briar Ave., Bradley arrived less than 36 hours after the ringing in of the new year. He was born at 11:32 a.m. Jan. 2 with the assistance of Dr. K.K. Wong at Fayette Memorial Hospital and weighed in at seven pounds and two ounces.

Having been named Fayette County's first baby for 1975, Bradley and his parents are now the recipients of a bundle of practical tokens of welcome donated by 12 Fayette County merchants.

They will receive a floral arrangement from Mari Lee Flowers, a baby blanket from Craig's Dept. Store, baby food from Hidy's Food Store, a fork and spoon set from Boylan Jewelers, a blanket and bonnet from Risch's Drug Store, a free checking account for one year from the First National Bank in Washington C.H., a baby walker from Buckeye Mart, a pair of shoes from Kaufman's Bargain Store, a six-piece step-up set of silver flatware from the C.A. Gossard Co., a savings account and a $10 deposit from the Fayette County Bank, an 8 by 10 black and white portrait from Jennings Photography and a six-month gift subscription from The Record-Herald.

"I just couldn't believe it!" Mrs. Shaeffer related as her first reaction to hearing that her baby was the top contender for the first baby honor. "There was a baby already at the hospital when I arrived (however, it had been born to Highland County parents) so I didn't expect my baby would be the first."

All babies born to Fayette County residents after the clock struck midnight Dec. 31, 1974, regardless of where they came into the world were eligible. The deadline for reporting the birth to the Record-Herald was midnight Friday.

Mrs. Shaeffer, who is 24 and a former employe at the Beau Monde beauty shop, said she and her husband had at first expected a girl but they had both a girl's and boy's name selected for whichever decided to show up.

Bradley David arrived ready to take on the world, Mrs. Shaeffer said. "He was born with his eyes opened. The first time I saw him, he had his eyes wide open!"

MR. AND MRS. Shaeffer have both been Fayette County residents all their lives. Barbara is a 1969 graduate of Washington Senior High School and David Shaeffer, also 24, is a 1968 graduate of Miami Trace High School. He is presently employed at The Body Shop in Dublin.

Mrs. Shaeffer said she is content to just watch her new baby. Bradley David is the first child for the new parents. "He's spoiled already but you can't help it — he makes such cute faces," she added.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Frye, of the Briar Avenue address, and Mr. Shaeffer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Shaeffer, of New Holland.

Speedy tax rebate action eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has won a pledge from the incoming chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee to act quickly on a recession-fighting tax cut of about $15 billion.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who is expected to become chairman in the new Congress of the committee that initiates all tax legislation, told newsmen after a Friday night conference with Ford: "I think we have the ingredients for fast action to get relief to the American people."

Ford outlined his tax cut plan to Ullman and called Republican congressional leaders — Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona — to the White House today for a similar preview of legislation he will propose next week in his State of the Union address.

While predicting the Ways and Means Committee will make changes in the economic blueprint, Ullman said Ford's plan "encompasses much of what I support."

The Oregonian, acting chairman of the committee since Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., was hospitalized last month, would not disclose the President's proposals. But Ullman said they were "in some ways wider in scope than I had anticipated."

Ullman indicated he and Ford were not in agreement on implementation of a tax cut but were close to an accord "on net impact" — the total dollar amount involved.

Administration sources have said that figure is about $15 billion.

The Ways and Means chief said he was not enthusiastic about an idea that Ford has been considering — to achieve the reduction by sending tax rebate checks for 1974 to taxpayers. It was uncertain whether this feature would survive when the President puts the finishing touches on his recommendations for pumping money into the hands of consumers in order to spur the sagging economy.

Still being worked on, too, was the question of offsetting the impact of a $3-a-barrel levy on both imported and domestic crude oil that Ford will seek as a means of encouraging energy conservation. The upshot would be an increase of about seven cents a gallon for gasoline.

Some $18 billion would be raised by a combination of higher tariffs and excises on oil. The administration wants to return the money to the spending stream via tax cuts that would be in addition to the $15 billion reduction.

Ford's Labor-Management Committee, representing big labor and big business, was unanimous in urging the $15 billion cut.

Emergency communications system for deaf persons here promising

Through the cooperation of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and D.E.A.F., Inc., a Washington C.H. corporation formed to assist the deaf, the prospects of creating an emergency communications system for deaf persons is promising.

A meeting will be held Tuesday night at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. garage for the purpose of explaining the emergency system and demonstrating the electronic equipment necessary for such a program. All deaf residents of this area, and other interested persons are urged to attend.

Robert Woods, president of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a social-service organization of Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employees, said that some of the special telephone equipment needed for the program may be available from the Columbus office of Ohio Bell.

These units, which normally cost approximately $600 each, could be donated to D.E.A.F. if there is sufficient response from community residents for continuation of the emergency set-up.

The units are a sophisticated telephone-typewriter combination which allows deaf persons to communicate. Since it is impractical for each deaf person and his friends to own one, a permanent relay station must be set up.

The management of the Stop 35, at the junction of U.S. 35 and Interstate 71, has offered to allow such a relay post to be erected at their facilities.

Under such a plan, anyone needing to get a message to a deaf person in an emergency situation would call the Stop 35. The message could then be relayed by special telephone from the facility to the deaf resident.

The Ohio Bell garage is located at the end of S. North Street, beyond Elm Street, behind Ted Warner's garage. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m., and all deaf persons as well as those interested in helping the deaf are urged to attend.

For further information, persons should contact Miss Janet Duvall at 335-1779 after 5 p.m.

Remap measure passes Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A partisan bill to remap Ohio congressional districts has passed both houses of the General Assembly, but enactment of the controversial Democratic plan into law was in doubt today.

The redistricting bill gained final floor approval in the Senate Friday night, but an appeals court order shattered majority Democrats' strategy to bypass Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown in rushing the measure to the desk of Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The 10th District Court of Appeals permanently barred President Pro Tem Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, from superseding Brown, by signing approved legislation before it is sent to the governor.

That leaves it all up to Brown unless the Ohio Supreme Court hears a Democratic appeal today and overturns the lower court order.

With or without Brown's signature, the redistricting bill and five other pieces of Democratic legislation must reach Gilligan before Republican Gov. elect James A. Rhodes is sworn in Monday or face certain vetoes.

The redistricting bill passed the Senate 18-13 after nearly three hours of debate and Republican efforts to amend the plan to redraw districts along lines more favorable to Democrats.

Two Democrats, former Minority Leader Anthony Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, and Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, voted with Republicans against the proposed law, known formally as Equal Representation Act. One Republican and one Democrat were absent.

Four Democrats defected when the bill went through the House 53-43 on Wednesday.

Proceedings in the Senate floor were generally low key in marked contrast to bitter Republican resentment to the "gerrymander" plan in the House.

Mugging defendant handed prison term

A Washington C.H. man extradited here from Clarksville, Tenn., by Washington C.H. police in early December has been sentenced to a jail term of one to five years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

Harold E. Smith, 21, formerly of 111 Water St., pleaded guilty in Fayette County Common Pleas Court Friday to charges of robbery and grand theft. Judge Evelyn W. Coffman sentenced him to the jail term on the theft charge and sentenced him to five years probation on the robbery charge. The sentences are to run concurrently.

The charges stemmed from the robbery of a Washington C.H. man one night last May. Three others involved in the commission of the robbery had pleaded guilty shortly after their arrest last spring.

Smith had not been arrested at the time because he fled, and police were not immediately able to locate him.

According to the report filed by the victim, he was lured to the area of the Washington C.H. Middle School by a 23-year-old woman who had invited him to her house for coffee. When they reached the Middle School, Smith and two other men beat and robbed him.

His wallet and checkbook were taken, and four of his attackers fled the scene. The incident was immediately reported to city police.

Small plane safety topic for county pilots meeting

The Fayette County Pilots Association will sponsor a program concerned with small plane safety at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Fayette County Airport.

In cooperation with the Federal Aviation Administration's pilot education clinic, the association will show two films on safety.

The first will discuss what license requirements and plane instrumentation are necessary to operate a airplane under adverse weather conditions. As weather conditions worsen, the requirements for pilot training and craft equipment rise proportionately.

The second film deals with the hazards of cranking an airplane by hand turning the propeller. In addition to the hazards, the film explains proper cranking technique.

One of the evening's highlights will be a demonstration using a vertigo chair. The chair simulates what the pilot is exposed to when he becomes disoriented in bad weather and begins a spin or downward spiral.

William E. Terry, chief flight instructor for Aviation Sales, Inc., will speak on general aviation safety. William L. Keiser, accident prevention specialist, will discuss operating in poor weather.

All area pilots, whether or not they are members of the pilots association, are urged to attend this informative meeting.

Ohio millionaire drawing tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Lottery Commission is staging a big bingo game tonight—a game that starts out with all the contestants getting checks for $1,000 and ends with one of them becoming a millionaire.

Ohio's second millionaire drawing at Veterans Memorial Auditorium, complete with entertainment by comedian Ronnie Schell and country-western singer Roger Miller, will give one of the 100 contestants an income of $50,000 a year for 20 years.

The first millionaire drawing Oct. 27 at Thistledown Racetrack in Cleveland used the results of one race to pick the big winner from among 10 finalists.

This time the 10 finalists whose numbers are picked from the tumbler play out an elimination game on a bingotype board. Each finalist will have two numbers on the board and stays in the game until both his numbers turn up. The last three win prizes of $1 million, $100,000 and $50,000. Each of the 10 finalists is guaranteed $10,000.

To top the evening off, there will be a special drawing for 10 $1,000 bonus prizes, meaning that 10 contestants are assured of taking home at least $2,000.

The contestants include a West Virginian, an Indiana resident and 98 Ohioans. Cleveland has the biggest representation, with 11 contestants. Columbus and Akron have eight each, followed by Cincinnati with six.

Contestant registration for the selection ceremonies begins at 6 p.m.

The winner of the first millionaire drawing was an Indian chief, Omar Watts of Burton.

The lottery commission already has started the selection process for the third millionaire drawing. A millionaire drawing is held for each 30 million lottery tickets sold, and every $20 winner in the weekly contests has a chance of being picked for the field of 100 contestants.

Each week a dozen or so persons are picked.

Television sets possibly dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 300,000 color television sets that appear to operate normally could emit five to 25 times the maximum allowable radiation, the Food and Drug Administration says.

In the largest television recall in history, the FDA has ordered the manufacturer, Matsushita Electric Corp. of America, to correct the sets. They are marketed under the Panasonic, J.C. Penney, Penncrest and Bradford brands.

The agency has known of the potentially dangerous sets for 1½ months but issued no public warning. Officials told of the recall Friday night in answer to a query.

"The excessive radiation can occur and the consumer wouldn't know it. You could have a beautiful picture and still have high radiation," Dr. Robert Elder, chief of FDA's radiological health program, said.

Elder said that pending correction of the sets viewers would be safe if they sit at least six feet away from the sets. Radiation levels could be much greater closer to the sets, he said.

Matsushita, whose parent company is based in Japan, has contended the sets pose no potential danger, but FDA turned down its application for exemption from the order. The agency required the company to submit by Monday a plan to correct the sets, officials said.

About 235,000 of the sets bear the Panasonic brand; 52,000 either J.C. Penney or Penncrest — both of which are sold by the J.C. Penney department stores; and 15,000 the Bradford brand, which is sold by W.T. Grant's stores.

The model numbers for the Panasonic sets, all preceded by the letters "CT" are: 701, 702, 398, 252, 253, 254, 256, 256A, 701A, 398A, 911, 912, 911E (VTR), 911V (VTR), 314, 324, 201, 704, 910, 924, 944, 2514, 2524 and 2534.

Th Penney sets have the model numbers 2888, 2868, 2875, 2876, 2877, 2878, 2915, 2874, 2901, 2875A, 2877A, 2876A and 2878A.

The Grant models are numbered 79343, 79350 and 79301.

Elder said, "Consumers who have one of the affected sets will receive a certified letter telling them where to take their receiver. It will say the repair will be done at no cost to them."

In addition, the manufacturer has obtained a toll-free telephone number, 800-447-4700, to answer questions from owners of the sets.

An intense winter storm centered near the western end of Lake Superior this morning brought unseasonably warm weather and strong winds to Ohio.

But colder air sweeping in from the west was to send temperatures downward into the 30s and upper 20s by late afternoon, according to the National Weather Service in Cleveland. Much colder weather is forecast tonight with the mercury dropping into the teens over the state and somewhat lower in northwestern counties.

Sunday's weather will continue cold with highs in the teens and 20s.

Winds were to continue blustery today, but were to subside slowly by afternoon and nightfall. A few showers changing to snow flurries were forecast for today.

Snow flurries are likely over northern and eastern Ohio tonight and on Sunday.

Snow flurries northeast Monday, fair Tuesday and Wednesday. Highs in the teens and low 20s Monday, warming to the 30s by Wednesday. Lows 10 to 15 Monday, rising to the low 20s by Wednesday.

McCord rips CIA tales

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — James W. McCord Jr., one of the convicted Watergate burglars, says the allegation that the Central Intelligence Agency conducted massive domestic spying was a "smokescreen" to divert attention from the coverup convictions.

Speaking at Bowling Green State University Friday, McCord blamed Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., for feeding false information to the news media about the alleged surveillance.

He said New York Times reporter Seymour Hersh, who wrote the first stories on the alleged domestic spying operations, "is out on a limb on this one. The allegations already are coming apart."

McCord, a former CIA agent who is free while appealing a 1½ year sentence for his role in the 1972 break-in at Democratic National Headquarters, noted the Times story broke about a week before the Watergate coverup trial ended.

"It was pure and simple a smokescreen," McCord said, to divert public attention from the convictions of former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, ex-White House aides H. R. Haldeman and John Erlichman and former assistant attorney general Robert Mardian.

"There's a pattern to it," McCord said. "Baker did exactly the same thing in March, a week before the indictment of these men."

At that time, McCord contended, Baker had been "floating" false stories that the Watergate break-in was a CIA operation.

Earlier, in a news conference, McCord said he had no knowledge of any domestic spying by the CIA during his 19 years with the agency, ending in 1970.

He said the only domestic work the CIA did then was to "debrief" Americans who had traveled in Iron Curtain countries.

Planning series set to begin on Jan. 15

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Reservations are coming in fast for the three meeting series on estate and property transfer planning which is set to start Wednesday, January 15 at Miami Trace High School. The second and third sessions are set for Tuesday, January 21 and 28. At the time this column is being prepared it looks as though there will be well over 100 folks participating in the series.

The estate planning series was planned with one major objective in mind - that being to help Fayette County Farm families plan to save money and keep the family farm in the family. There's an old saying that two things are certain - death and taxes. Any more for farmer operators it's a certainty there will be high taxes at the time of death without careful planning. The general theme for the estate planning series will be that there is no substitute for planning. A panel of experts has been lined up to serve as resource people for the three meetings. These folks include: John Moore, Extension Farm Management Specialist, OSU; James Budros, trust officer, Huntington National Bank of Columbus; Rolo Marchant, Probate Court judge, Otis Hess, Jr. attorney and president of the Fayette County Bar Association; and Jim Polson, Area Extension Agent, Farm Management.

The estate planning series is being jointly sponsored by the Fayette County Extension Service and the Miami Trace Vo-Ag Department. All farm families in the area are encouraged to attend. Although the meeting is aimed at a farm audience the principles will apply to any businessman who wants to attend. Where the farming operation involves father-son(s) combinations we encourage both to attend if at all possible.

The program for each of the meetings is as follows.

Wednesday, January 15, an introduction to property planning. Subjects covered will include, why planning is important, gift taxes vs estate taxes, discussion of gross estate and net taxable estate, what are the tools used in estate planning and the importance of professional legal guidance.

Tuesday, January 21 the topics will be wills - what should be included, what happens without one, updating wills and other points. The steps in settling an estate will be covered along with a discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of joint held property.

Tuesday, January 21 will include a discussion of the basic tools of estate planning and how they work. Included will be trusts, annuities, life insurance, farm business organization, land contracts, and others. A general question and answer period will be included to cover and clarify questions from all three meetings.

There is no cost to attend the meetings. But advanced registration would be helpful in planning for the meetings. Let us know if you plan to attend by calling the Extension Office (335-1150).

A NEW LAW that goes into effect this month is going to cause some confusion for Fayette County farmers - and for Mary Morris and her staff at the county auditor's office.

This new law is that passed by the state legislature last year which allows all farm land to be taxed on its current agricultural use value rather than its speculative value.

Farmers in Fayette wanting to have their farm land valued on the new method should be cautious however. It could mean an increase in your farm taxes rather than a decrease. Reason is that Fayette County is not set for re-appraisal until 1976. Thus it may be in your best interest to wait. But you need to be aware that you have the option to request - by paying a ten dollar fee and filling an application - to be re-appraised this year under the new method.

Since you have until the first Monday in March to file - if you desire. I would suggest that you study the situation carefully. In the next few weeks we plan to use this column to spell out the procedures for filing and also to give some examples. We also plan to schedule a public meeting in February to explain what is involved with his new law and how it will affect Fayette County now and in 1976 after the re-appraisal.

THE ANNUAL Corn Club banquet is set for Monday evening January 13, 1975, 6:30 P.M. at Mahan Hall. The banquet will have a new dimension this year with the addition of soybean discussions. 1974 marked the first year for the soybean club sponsored by the agronomy committee. Winners in both the Corn Club and Soybean Club will be recognized at the event. Also on schedule will be the election of new officers and directors for the 1975 Agronomy Committee.

THE SECOND annual Fayette County Agronomy Clinic is set for Thursday, January 23 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Mahan Hall. The clinic will again be co-sponsored by the Extension Service and Fayette County fertilizer dealers. Mark the date and plan to attend. We'll have more details in this column next week - but some of the resource people will include OSU Extension Specialists, Sam Bone, Ed Stroube and Byron Nolte.

ORDER EARLY and take delivery is the word we are hearing on herbicides and insecticides for this year. There will be adequate supplies of some products - but others are going to be in short supply. Don't get left out!

Fertilizer inventories up

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has been a modest buildup in U.S. fertilizer inventories, an encouraging sign that supplies may not be quite as scarce as they could be when farmers take to their fields in the spring, according to industry officials.

The Fertilizer Institute, a trade association, said Friday that inventories on Nov. 30 were up 2 per cent from a year earlier due to production outpacing use.

But Edwin M. Wheeler, institute president, cautioned that a "proper interpretation" should be made of the figures.

"The 1973 fall season was a record-breaker for consumption and inventories were stripped far below normal levels," Wheeler said. Thus, the 2 per cent increase from a year earlier still meant that fertilizer supplies were abnormally low.

Wheeler added, however, that there has been a discernible upward trend in nitrogen and phosphate stockpiles. Those inventories were above levels of November 1973 and 1972.

Production of fertilizer components since the industry's year began last July 1 was reported up from a year earlier as of Nov. 30, including: nitrogen 3 per cent; phosphate 4 per cent; and potash 11 per cent.

Noting the increase in nitrogen manufacture, which depends on natural gas, Wheeler said gas curtailment in case of another energy crisis could "quickly cancel this narrow gain and sharply increase the nitrogen shortage in 1975."

Better investments than gold

Shortly before raw gold was placed on sale again in the United States for the first time since 1933, a newspaper article was headlined: Is Gold Still a Good Investment? The most sensible answer seems to be: Not very. This answer applies with particular force to ordinary folk who toy with the idea of buying some gold as a hedge against inflation.

Gold is essentially a speculative commodity. It returned a handsome profit to those who were smart enough - and had the money - to buy up quantities of it in the not very distant past at around 45 dollars an ounce and sold at the recent peak. It may pay off for those who buy in quantity now and are committed to hanging onto it until they can make a few dollars per ounce. Otherwise, gold investment is at best chancy and at worst disastrous.

Gold, it should be borne in mind, pays neither interest nor dividends.

It just sits there (at a price for safekeeping). Buyers must pay a markup over the quoted price, and another premium must be paid when they sell the stuff.

Most Americans with the money to think seriously about sinking some into gold appear to be aware of these drawbacks; purchases did not inundate the New Year's market. Which, all things considered, is just as well.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 12

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Tackle all situations without taking a dim view of problem areas. There are always solutions - many! The eager, watchful and hopeful eye sees them more quickly.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Mixed influences. You may face some odd situations while traveling, or through communications. Obstacles, taken philosophically, however, could prove interesting as challenges.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Capitalize on your talents and handle your obligations in a productive way. This day has many advantages, benefits.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Explore further means to solve problems that came up in the past, are still on the docket. Fulfill a cherished wish by going after it. Don't just daydream.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Be realistic now and pursue only worthwhile goals. Take temporary delays in stride. Opportunity offered through clever use of your creative ability.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Some advances indicated, especially in the fields of art, designing. New suggestions may be made to you. Appraise carefully, noting all factors.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

A first-rate period for inventiveness and bringing out dormant talents. Put your strength behind unusual projects, but only if they are truly worthwhile.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Your emotions could get out of hand. So could any number of things become bothersome IF you permit. Stress tolerance and understanding.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Stress your inborn prudence and perceptiveness. Constructive interests favored. Avoid doubts and fears. You should have bright and happy day.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Avoid excess activity, useless wordage; be discriminating in all that you do and say. Make no drastic changes in things now running smoothly.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A less stimulating day than you may wish, but there's ample room for your talents to expand the enliven, which they should. Make some time for relaxation.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Summarize past gains and future potentialities, and it will help you to plan the right moves to take early next week. Don't think in terms of the unreasonable, however.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a high order of intelligence and usually like to associate only with those who are on your same intellectual level; can be aloof, if dealing with so-called "lesser lights." Try to curb this trait since you could lose many friendships which you would truly enjoy if not so patronizing. You are highly versatile and could excel in almost any field of your choice, but would probably be happiest in science, literature, the law, statesmanship, diplomacy or teaching.

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Mars' splendid aspect indicates expansive development, business advancement and fine opportunities to provide for the future.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Here, too, and maybe with subtlety, will be a chance for gratifying and enduring gains. Results may not be immediate however, so be patient. Make no precipitate moves.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

As with most Signs now, much activity and new interests indicated. Whether you get into the swim and find your level promptly is the question. A truly vibrant day: Show your mettle.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Business, financial, industrial matters slated for immediate advance; also for future gains. But you must handle all affairs astutely, with good judgment.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Certain changes are in order, others are NOT. Don't go "against the grain" needlessly, nor penetrate too deeply into unknown waters before you have the know-how and facts.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Fine influences. Your incentive and ambition should match them. Be of good will, purposeful in action. Seek competent advice, if necessary. Don't take anything for granted.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Curb an impulse to undertake enterprises you would not ordinarily consider. Stellar influences now suggest that you stick to routine, avoid recklessness of any sort.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Some changes from last week? Some planes to revise perhaps? Take all with an even disposition and avoid anxiety. Some news of an unexpected nature indicated.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Your capabilities need no proving, just the right exposure. With an efficient start you should achieve much before sundown. Protect investments, your income.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Augment efforts to produce an improved program and more effective methods to increase advantages. Some valuable new contacts in the offing.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A fine day for capitalizing on your talents, gaining benefits and coordinating efforts to promote better understanding among others. Emphasize your alertness, dexterity.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Romance and domesticity favored now. In business matters, give thought to each situation in turn, and avoid crowding your program.

YOU BORN TODAY are personable, ambitious, progressive in your thinking and highly energetic. You can put unusual ideas into quick action and this trait, coupled with your keen insight into changing trends, makes you a power with which to reckon in almost any field of leadership. Yours is a positive nature, with an abundance of vitality and a versatility which can serve you in many fields. You could make a great success in business, the military, the law, literature, statesmanship and (or) diplomacy.

Weather crest offered

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — No doubt, many have thought of calling the National Weather Service a variety of names when a forecast is wrong.

But the weather office here has had an offer to have its name blazoned on a family crest.

The local weather watchers received a postcard in the mail this week addressed to "Mr. National W. Off."

The card, from Halbert Inc., Bath, Ohio, offered Mr. Off a full-color wall plaque of the family name.

"Because we have already researched the Off name and have it on file, the cost is only $19.95," the card said.

The state Bureau of Consumer Protection said it had gotten several complaints from businesses and agencies that have received similar cards.

Although the consumer bureau is looking into the complaints, a spokesman stressed that there has been no evidence of wrongdoing so far.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Failure is daughter's,
not mom's

DEAR ABBY: Our beautiful and intelligent 22-year-old daughter is ruining her life, and I am helpless to stop her. She says she is in love with a married man who plans to divorce his wife and marry her.

Abby, the man is 53 (ten years older than her father!) and he has five children.

I rang up his wife and she said she had no idea that her husband was planning to divorce her. Then I called the man and he told me a different story.

I am so afraid my daughter will get mixed up in an ugly scandal. I can't talk any sense into her head. I thought I taught her right from wrong, but somewhere I must have failed. My daughter lives in an apartment with two other girls and she feels that just because she supports herself, she can live her life without any interference from me. What can I do?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A 22-year-old self-supporting woman can't be controlled by her mother or anyone else. If you taught her right from wrong, you haven't failed. SHE has. Some people have to learn life of the King Island Eskimo dancers, a gold mine still in operation, the panning for gold, a husky-drawn dogsled, Alaska's largest city, Anchorage, with its beautiful flowers and cabbages, Portage Glacier, Iceberg Lake and the ride on the world's longest chairlift at the famous ski resort, Alyeska.

Members of Beta Child Conservation League 'toured' Alaska Tuesday evening with Mrs. Hilbert Meyer and Mrs. Charles Ellis as guides. The group met in the home of Mrs. Meyer for the January meeting. The business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Gilbert Crouse, president, preceded the 'tour.' It was announced that the Ohio Spring CCL Conference is planned March 22 at Miami Trace High School. Beta members will be in charge of the coffee hour at the Conference. Other local leagues will also serve on the committees. Each member is to bring a homemade item or baked goods, for the bazaar or craft room.

McKinley, Fairbanks, Whitehorse, Skagway and Juneau, the capital of Alaska, Prince Rupert, British Columbia, the Mendenhall Glacier, a 1,000 mile cruise of four days down the Famous Inland Passage to Vancouver, then onto Victoria, where they visited the world famous Buchart Gardens.
Members enjoyed the evening, and Mrs. Ellis assisted Mrs. Myer in the serving of a dessert course. The next meeting will take place in the home of Mrs. Deane Powell, 936 Briar Ave., Feb. 5, when Miss Helen Slavens will present a chalk talk.

Auxiliary, World War I vets meet

District 7 conference in Columbus on January 19 was announced when members of Fayette County Auxiliary, Barracks 2291, Veterans of World War I, assembled Thursday evening at the American Legion Hall.
Auxiliary members planning to attend were advised that meeting would be held at Veterans Memorial building in Rooms 201-203-204 with Capitol City Barracks No. 4161 and Auxiliary hosting the conference. Following a light lunch at 12:30 p.m. there will be registration at 1 p.m. and meeting at 1:30 p.m.
During the round table meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Nellie Kennedy, reports were heard and communications were read. Circulated and signed were several round robin cards. It was announced that the Auxiliary had gone over the top in its 1975 membership drive. The quarterly audit was made with Mrs. Calvin Johnson and Mrs. Cloyce Copley, the trustees officiating.
Mrs. Copley, Community Action chairman, stated that she had delivered a cheer plate and a Christmas remembrance to a shut-in member in a nursing home during the holiday season. Recognition was given the birthday of both Mrs. Copley and Mrs. Mary Kathryn Kinzer.

Word of a possible pension jump for veterans and their dependents was most enthusiastically received when Mrs. Allen Sells gave her legislative report. Mrs. Sells in quoting from "The Torch" stated that measure S4040 would provide income limitations by $400 a year and raise rate of pay by 12 per cent for those under so-called new law. Veterans under the old pension law would receive $400 income limitation increase but would not get the 12 per cent rate jump. This legislation has already passed the House and Senate by an overwhelming vote. It now awaits action by President Ford. Veterans feel that should there be a veto passage will come promptly over such action. This news serves as a bright omen for World War I people whose pensions were slashed or eliminated as a result of Social Security increases, which has been geared primarily to help the elderly.
Adjournment was called to meet again on February 13.

Kingwood lecture planned by Mr. Troutman

"The Tallgrass Prairie-Land between Forest and Plain" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture presented by K. Roger Troutman, Kingwood Center Naturalist, on Sunday, January 19, at 2:00 p.m. in the Kingwood Meeting Hall. This program, open to the public free of charge, is the first in the 1975 Kingwood Family Lecture Series.

Mr. Troutman has been aware of prairie plants since his childhood on a Wayne County farm. He became intensely interested in them several summers ago while visiting a small roadside prairie in full bloom in west-central Ohio. Since that time his interest in prairies has taken him several thousand miles throughout the central United States to study and photograph the various plants and animals of these grasslands. His experiences of the past several years will be the topic of this slide lecture.

During his forays he also collected seeds which were planted at Kingwood to establish a small "prairie" there. Last year he was appointed chairman of the Ohio Prairie Survey Committee of the Ohio Biological Survey. The committee is a group of people attempting to find, survey and evaluate all the remnants of prairie that once covered about 1,500 square miles of Ohio's landscape.

The tallgrass prairie, once a vast sea of seemingly endless grasses often higher than a man's hand, is a very rapidly disappearing community of plants and animals. The soils, often said to be the richest in the world, still exist, although the plants and animals that developed them are nearly gone. Only a few plant communities can still be found in waste areas and other unfarmed land. This presentation is a good opportunity to learn more about one of the most endangered native plant communities in the United States.

In addition to the program at the Meeting Hall, the Kingwood Greenhouses will be open and featuring displays of amaryllis and the early spring bulbs.

Kingwood Center is easily reached from the north and south by Interstate 71 or Ohio Rt. 13 and from the east and west by U.S. 30.

Second half costly to Lions

By LARRY WATTS

Record-Herald Sports Editor

HILLSBORO — For Washington Court House, the hopes for a second consecutive South Central Ohio League crown could very well have vanished on Hillsboro's court, Friday night. The Blue Lions fell apart at the seams in the second half as the Indians notched a 68-53 victory.

By dropping the crucial contest to Hillsboro, the Lions appear to be out of the title picture as the first round league action comes to an end. Circleville and Greenfield would have to fall flat on their faces if Court House still wants to stay in the running. The Lions are now 3-3 in the league, while Circleville is 6-0 and Greenfield is 5-1. After the Lions scrapped to a 28-26 halftime lead, the roof collapsed in the second half. During the final two periods, the Indians controlled the backboards at each end of the court and shot a tremendous percentage from the field to outscore Washington 42-25.

Many of the Hillsboro rebounds came on the offensive boards as the Indians outrebounded the Lions 34-23. In the second half, the home team picked off 15 caroms compared to just seven for Washington. The Lions only had two rebounds in the third frame.

Working freely about the boards, Hillsboro's Al McKenzie and Mike Sharkey picked off 11 and 10 rebounds, respectively. Ken Upthegrove led the Lions with 10 rebounds, while freshman John Denen grabbed eight.

In the shooting department, Hillsboro connected on 27 of 55 attempts from the field from 49 per cent and Court House only managed to connect on 18 of 57 for 32 per cent. In just the second half, the Indians missed only seven shots in 21 attempts, while Washington was eight of 29 from the field.

At the foul line, the Lions netted 17 of 22 free throws. Hillsboro dropped in 14 of 24 charity tosses.

Four of the Hillsboro starters hit double figures in the game. Leading the attack was Barry Zink with 17 points. McKenzie dropped in 16, while Sharkey added 13 points. Rounding out the double figure scorers was Keven Bailey with 11.

Chuck Byrd topped the Washington attack with 16 points. Denen contributed 15 points and Mark Shaw hit double figures for the first time this season with 12 markers.

For the first two periods, the game ran nip-and-tuck. After the Indians jumped out to a 6-0 lead, the Lions fought back to tie the score at 10-10. Each team exchanged a basket before the Indians' Zink dropped in a 20 foot jump shot with two seconds remaining to give Hillsboro a 14-12 margin.

With Denen connecting on eight free throws, the Lions managed to climb into a 26-20 lead with 2:39 remaining in the half. However, the Lions' roar was silenced for almost the remainder of the half as Indians tied the score 26-26 on a shot from the corner by McKenzie with 41 seconds left. With five seconds to go in the frame, Shaw stole the ball and went in for a layup to break Washington's scoreless streak and give the Lions a 28-26 lead at the half.

Washington continued to hold its slim lead for most of the third period. With 2:27 left in the stanza and holding a 38-35 margin, Upthegrove went to the bench with his fourth personal foul. With the Court House center on the bench, the Indians ran off nine consecutive jpoints to take a 44-38 lead. By the time the quarter was over, Denen also joined Upthegrove on the bench

Lion jayvees break streak with 45-33 win

Limiting Hillsboro to just eight points in the final two periods, Washington's reserve team broke a three game losing streak by handing Hillsboro a 45-33 setback, Friday evening.

Hillsboro took a 25-23 lead at the half. However, the Lions came back to outscore the Indians 11-6 in the third stanza and 11-2 in the fourth frame to sew up the victory.

Each team had one player hit double figures. Washington was paced by Sam McClendon with 12 points. Tyler Woods pumped in 14 for the losers.

Washington's reserve team is now 3-6 on the season and 2-4 in the South Central Ohio League. Hillsboro is also 3-6 for the year and 1-5 in league play.

with four fouls and Hillsboro was leading 46-40.

With most of the Lions' board strength on the bench, Washington continued to fall further behind in the opening minutes of the last canto. Sharkey sprung loose for three consecutive baskets and Hillsboro held a 52-44 lead.

As the quarter progressed, the Lions' efforts became more futile. After Doug Phillips netted a 20 footer with 6:28 left in the game, the Lions depended on the foul line for their remaining points. In the final six minutes of the game, Hillsboro doubled Washington's point production. Hillsboro missed just three shots from the field during the entire fourth period.

There was a total of 41 turnovers in the contest. Hillsboro lost control of the ball 23 times, while Court House committed 18 miscues on the court.

Hillsboro and Washington are now tied for third place in the SCOL standings with identical 3-3 league marks. The Indians are now 6-3 on the season, while the Lions are 4-5. All five of Washington's losses have come on the road, while Hillsboro is now 3-1 on its court.

Both teams will be back in action Tuesday night. Washington will be hosting Circleville and Hillsboro will venture to Unioto.

Alcorn spells Panthers' defeat

By MARK REA

Record-Herald Sports Writer

EBER — Basketball is supposedly a game for big men. Greg Alcorn, the 6-foot-7 center of the Unioto Shermans, proved that statement correct as he poured in 31 points en route to his team's 77-72 victory over Miami Trace.

Alcorn used his height advantage to score easy turn-around jumpers from less than five feet from the basket. He scored 21 of his team's 42 first half points and 10 more after intermission.

From the Miami Trace standpoint, the game looked like a cakewalk from the opening tip-off. The Panthers came out in a flurry and had an early 13-2 lead over the Tanks. Senior Phil Skinner, along with sophomore Dan Gifford, led the Panther charge during the opening minutes of the game. However, Unioto fought back to take the lead in the second quarter and went on to win the game.

Unioto held a slight advantage in the game's statistics. They outshot the Panthers as the Tanks pierced the nets on 30 of 61 attempts for a 49 per cent average. The Panthers stripped the cords for 33 of 70 shots and a 47 per cent average. The rebounding went heavily to Unioto, 45-31, while the Tanks turned the ball over 16 times to Miami Trace's 12 miscues.

The most important aspect of this game was the foul shooting. This is where Trace essentially lost the game. The Panthers could connect on just six charity tosses in 19 tries for a dismal 32 per cent average. The Shermans were the exact opposites as they watched 17 of 21 free throws drop in for a blazing 81 per cent average.

The Panthers came exploding out the starting blocks and, after having the Shermans 7-0, proceeded to run the score to 13-2. During this span, Trace put into effect a workable man-to-man defense which thoroughly had Unioto confused.

However, the Panthers rejected the man-to-man defense at the 13-2 point in the game and settled into a zone defense for much of the remainder time. The Tanks finally solved the zone and caught up to Miami Trace.

The second quarter was, perhaps, the most conclusive quarter in the game.

Box score

UNIOTO (77) — Throckmorton 5-0-10; Kerns 4-0-8; Hannan 0-0-0; Anderson 3-2-8; Johnson 4-7-15; Alcorn 13-5-31; Brumfield 1-3-5; Total 30-17-77.

Ohio State adds Penn State clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Perennially tough Penn State has been added to Ohio State's football schedule for the next two seasons.

Athletic Director Ed Weaver said Friday the Buckeyes this fall will host the Nittany Lions in Ohio Stadium on Sept. 20. It will be OSU's second game of the season, following an opener with Michigan State.

Next year the Buckeyes will travel to University Park, Pa., for a gridiron clash with Penn State on Sept. 18.

Catcher Randy Hundley of the Chicago Cubs set a major league rookie record in 1966 when he hit 19 home runs while playing 149 games.

Ford slates big layoffs in Ohio

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The jobs of 14,288 Ohioans will be affected by the shutdown of 14 auto and seven truck assembly plants across the nation, a Ford Motor Co. spokesman said Friday.

The layoffs are scheduled to begin Monday. Some will last for one week, some for two weeks and some indefinitely, the spokesman said.

Cleveland's two engine plants are to suffer the heaviest cutbacks, with 4,600 hourly workers scheduled to be out of work for one week. Of those, 2,400 will be furloughed the following week as well. About 250 of the workers are to be laid off indefinitely, he said. The plants make six- and eight-cylinder auto engines and heavy-duty truck engines.

The Cleveland casting plant, which fashions engine blocks and other major engine components out of gray iron, will lose 400 jobs indefinitely, he said.

More than 3,000 workers will be out of work for two weeks at the Ford works in Lorain, where intermediate size Torinos and Mercury Montegos are assembled, he said.

Production of Econoline trucks is to continue at the plant which is Ford's sole source of the commercial vans.

About 3,100 hourly wage earners are to be laid off at the Lima engine plant, where four, six and eight-cylinder engines are manufactured for passenger cars. That layoff is to extend only through the week of Jan. 13, the spokesman said.

Final assembly of automatic transmissions at Sharonville, outside Cincinnati, is to be halted for two weeks with layoff of 2,800 workers, he said.

Indefinite layoffs are in store for 388 workers at Ford's Sandusky parts plant, the spokesman said. The operation manufactures small metal hardware items such as air cleaners, door handles, window frames and tail lights.

Wide beef range bred

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The Simmental from Switzerland, the Charolais from France and the Chianina from Italy are little known cattle breeds being raised and bred in southern Ohio, according to an agriculture professor at Wilmington College.

Paul E. Moffitt, specialist on beef cattle and production, said southern Ohio is rapidly becoming a prominent beef producing area, with more of the newer and uncommon breeds in evidence.

Many of the breeds are old, but new to the American cattle scene.

The trend in recent years toward newer beef breeds is a partial answer to the need for faster growing beef animals which will produce beef for the table at a lower cost, Moffitt said.

Southern Ohio has become a beef-producing area "because we can best utilize the grassgrowing capabilities of the area in this way," Moffitt said.

"The cattle can graze the grass and then be sold as feeders to feed-lot operators," he said.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Samuel Roger Gillespie, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Cora Gillespie, Box 44, Millersburg, Ohio, has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Samuel Roger Gillespie deceased, late of Fayette County, Ohio. Creditors are required to file their claims with said fiduciary within four months or forever be barred.

ROLLO M. MARCHANT Judge of the Probate Court Fayette County, Ohio NO. 74-12-PE-9889 DATE: December 23, 1974 ATTORNEY: Kiger & Rossmann Dec. 28 - Jan. 4, 11

NOTICE

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company hereby gives notice that on December 2, 1974 it formally requested The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to approve temporary increases in rates charged for electric service because of an emergency which threatens injury to the business and interests of the public and the company. The company seeks approval to collect additional annual electric revenue of $27,123,000 in the manner described below. If the proposed increase is approved, the temporary additional revenue would be collected until a determination is made of the permanent rate changes requested in the company's Applications in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR filed November 6, 1974 and December 2, 1974, respectively, to increase its rates charged for electric service by $50,693,000 based on a determination of the twelve (12) months ended December 31, 1974.

The applications filed in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR place before The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio all of the Company's rates, prices and charges for all of its electric service presently under the jurisdiction of this Commission except standard residential and general service small secondary electric service covered by ordinance contracts in the municipalities of Bainbridge, Gallipolis, Manchester, Middleport, Piketon, Seaman, Waverly, West Union and Winchester located outside of Franklin County.

The proposed increase would be obtained by applying a 12 per cent surcharge, exclusive of fuel adjustment amounts, on all present rate schedules applicable to customers whose billings are the subject matter of the application for permanent rate changes requested in Case No. 74-760-EL-AIR and Case No. 74-813-EL-AIR, including the City of Columbus, except the City of Wellston and the municipalities in Franklin County other than the City of Columbus.

In addition, the proposed increase would be obtained by temporarily substituting the rate schedules for standard residential and general service small secondary electric service in the City of Wellston and in all the municipalities in Franklin County, except the City of Columbus, from present Schedules R-S-W, W-1 and G-S-1-W with Schedules R-S and G-S-1, in the City of Wellston and from present Schedules R and G-1 with Schedules R-E and G-1-F in the applicable municipalities in Franklin County and then applying the proposed 12 per cent surcharge exclusive of fuel adjustment amounts on those increases. These charges and proposed surcharge raise the levels of the rates in those respective municipalities to a level consistent with comparable service in their areas.

Based on the test period of the twelve (12) months ended December 31, 1974, temporary additional annual revenue of $215,218 would be provided from electric energy used by the City of Wellston, $4,539,244 from the municipalities in Franklin County, exclusive of the City of Columbus, and $22,369,275 from the remainder of the company's electric service, including the City of Columbus, being percentage increases of 56.11 per cent, 31.97 per cent and 12 per cent respectively.

On January 20, 1975 at 9:30 a.m. E.S.T. at the offices of The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215, a hearing will be held on the proposed temporary increases. Further information may be obtained from The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio or the company.

So you don't play Stayman!

The Stayman convention is often used after partner has opened the bidding with a call of one no-trump. It is useful with a wide variety of hands which would otherwise be difficult to describe to partner.

With partner having opened one no-trump, responder already has a very accurate picture of the opener's hand. It has 16 to 18 high card points, has at least two of each suit, and does not usually hold a five card major. Thus, finding out more about opener's hand is much easier than describing your entire hand him.

Although admittedly the hands above have been selected to demonstrate the usefulness of the Stayman convention, they are not unlike hands which arise quite frequently.

If your partner opened with a no-trump, how would you bid each of the hands above?

Simply a bidding two no-trump with Hand A leaves your side very vulnerable to attack in hearts unless partner has them well guarded. Passing is safe enough, but it could cost a lot of points if partner has a maximum hand. Two spades does not sufficiently show your interest in game, and three spades would show a five card suit.

Using Stayman can minimize your difficulties. You simply bid two clubs — requesting partner to show any four card major he might hold. If he bids spades, showing four, invite game or bid it yourself, depending on your courage at the time.

If partner bids hearts, you can rest assured that the opponents will not run off many heart tricks and can invite game by bidding two no-trump. The options on this hand if partner bids two diamonds, denying any four-card major are varied will depend on your own partnership understanding.

Hand B simply has no correct bid without the use of the Stayman convention (except for those who play transfers). Asking partner to pass by bidding two hearts can leave you yollowing in a part score while everyone else bids game. Jumping to three hearts forfeits any chance of finding a four-four fit in spades, whether partner responds four hearts — or worse, if partner bids three no-trump.

Using Stayman, you bid two clubs. If partner shows four hearts (which is unlikely when you have six), you have found your suit. A spade bid by partner is more likely and yields the same effect. If partner shows no four card major, you bid four hearts, showing that you are willing to play across from the minimum of two that he is known to hold. Having bid Stayman first, partner knows you must have at least four spades and six hearts and may even be able to make a move toward slam.

Hand C offers a super opportunity. While others who don't play Stayman are passing one no-trump or bidding two diamonds, you can undoubtedly find a better contract. After you have bid two clubs, you can pass either major suit bid by partner, greatly improving the contract.

If partner does not have a four-card major and bids two diamonds, a pass is in order. Once partner has shown six or less cards in the major suits, a good fit in diamonds is assured — and the hand with the high cards will remain concealed, not placed in dummy for the opponents to analyze as they defend.

At matchpoints, the Stayman convention is almost mandatory. This is because the vast majority of hands which are played in no-trump but contain an eight-card major fit would make one extra trick in the major suit. (If you don't believe that, take a deck of cards and try constructing a few.) The extra trick makes only a difference of 20 points, but can mean a bundle of matchpoints.

Although the wide variety of conventions has caused considerable discussion as to their value, the Stayman convention has gone unchallenged as one of the most useful ever devised. It is one convention every bridge enthusiast should come to know and incorporate in his bidding repertoire.

Winners Tuesday night at the Washington Duplicate Bridge Club were J.C. Wright and George Malek first with 92, Dr. and Mrs. K.K. Burris second with 77, and John Cannon and Mrs. Grove Davis third with 73. There were six full tables and par was 67.

The game begins at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the Washington Inn.

SHERIFF

SATURDAY, 3:30 a.m. — A car driven by James E. Adams, 21, of 314½ E. Paint St., was hit by a road sign which was blown off its post by high winds, as the Adams auto traveled on U.S. 35, one-tenth of a mile west of Old Palmer Road. Damage was estimated as slight and the driver was uninjured.

2:35 a.m. — A car driven by David P. Miller, 20, New Holland, struck a tree limb belonging to Wilbur E. FRIDAY, 11:30 p.m. — A truck driven by Edward D. Camp, 24, Wilmington, failed to negotiate a left curve while traveling north on Burton Road, 300 feet south of the Old Charleston Road intersection, and ran off the right side of the road and into a fence belonging to John Newman, Leesburg. Camp was charged with reckless operation and his truck was moderately damaged.

1:40 p.m. — An accident at the intersection of Rowe Ging Road and Ohio 41, involved a truck driven by Robert D. Sparks, 50, Leesburg, and Paul McKeever, 58, Greenfield. Hinde St. Damage was severe to the Brady car and moderate to the Donohoe vehicle. Neither driver was injured and no citations were issued.

Columbus teachers in court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The dispute between the Columbus Education Association and board of education shifted from the bargaining table to a courtroom today for a hearing on the board's request that striking teachers be ordered back to work.

The suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court asked a preliminary injunction ordering teachers back into classrooms.

The board claims in the action that the strike is illegal because it violates common Ohio law banning work stoppages by public employees and because teachers are violating their individual contracts with the board.

However, the board has not sought to invoke the Ferguson Act, which prohibits public employee strikes. Attorneys for the CEA say the teachers' individual contracts are subject to the master agreement which expired Dec. 31.

The court earlier this week turned down a request by the board to order a halt to the strike, but the subject of individual contracts was not discussed during the hearing that preceded that action.

Meanwhile, a federal mediator reported that renewed negotiations between board and CEA representatives Friday broke off without progress.

Courts

JUVENILE COURT

Barbara Foster, 16, daughter of Mrs. Delores Mongold, Greenfield, was found delinquent for shoplifting, and Judge Rollo M. Marchant ordered that she be committed to the custody of the Ohio Youth Commission.

Dorothy L. Blake, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Blake, Ohio 734, violated probation by running away from home and for truancy from school. The judge committed her to the custody of the Ohio Youth Commission, but he then suspended the commitment and ordered that probation be continued.

A 15-year-old Mount Sterling area girl was found unruly and placed on probation. The complaint against her had been filed by her parents.

JUVENILE TRAFFIC

Robert D. Kelly, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kelly, 443 Comfort Lane, lost his license for 16 days for speeding.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Thelma J. Williams, Dogtown Road, has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Timothy Williams on grounds of neglect and cruelty. The parties have one child the issue of their union, and the plaintiff was awarded alimony, custody and support.

DIVORCE ACTIONS DISMISSED

The divorce action filed in Common Pleas Court by Eldiva L. Jackson, Good Hope, against Frank Jackson Jr., has been dismissed by the court for lack of prosecution.

Adopt standards for justice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Criminal Justice Supervisory Commission adopted Friday a set of 34 standards and goals for improving the state's criminal justice system.

The standards deal with recruitment and selection of law enforcement personnel, policecommunity crime prevention efforts, adult diversion, diversion of youth, reduction of trial delay and training of court personnel.

Some of the standards will be recommended to the General Assembly for possible legislative action, some will be implemented through distribution of state funds for improved services and others will stand essentially as guidelines.
